

COMMITMENT TO TRANSFER OF RIGHTS IN PROJECT

1 Purpose of the agreement

Häme University of Applied Sciences (HAMK) has obligations stemming from The Finnish University Innovation Act (369/2006), other legislation, conditions for outside funding, and/or contractual obligations, under which persons taking part in research, development, and study projects must transfer rights that they have with respect to the results of the project and materials emerging from the project to HAMK.

By signing this document, the person taking part in the project transfers the rights mentioned in paragraph 2 to HAMK, including the ownership and intellectual rights to the results and other materials of the development/research project.

The person themselves retains a parallel and non-exclusive right of use to the aforementioned results and materials. Under this right of use, the person may themselves make material available to the public, make copies of it, use it and further develop and alter the material. The person is entitled only with the permission of Häme University of Applied Sciences Ltd to use these results for commercial purposes or to disclose them further.
